PAINTBALL SCENARIOS . NET

It is the early 1940's and Hitler has his evil grasp on most of Europe. Many people around the world, even many of his own generals, believe Adolf is a mad man. A small resistance has formed within the Third Reich and a brilliant assassination plot targeting Adolf Hitler is created. This is a daring and dangerous mission to abolish one of the most horrible tyrants this world has ever known!

The Resistance must attack and wipe out Hitler before he ruins all of Europe and creates enemies across the globe. If these German "traitors" can successfully eliminate Hitler in time, they can save their dignity and negotiate an end to World War II while they still have a leg to stand on. They must race against a 30 minute deadline or risk being caught and tried for high treason.

Hitler must stay alive if he wants to dominate the world. He has a small force of dedicated Nazi soldiers who will defend their leader to the death. Hitler must 1.) eradicate all of the attacking traitors, 2.) outlast the timer, or 3.) escape to Italy where he can hide and survive to fight another day.

Directions: Place an escape cone (Italy) near the south end of the field for Hitler. Hitler and his security secretly go out in the field 5 minutes before game starts and takes cover. The German resistance (attack) has a few more players and begins their attack after blowing a horn to start the operation. Hitler's troops can regen one time by touching Hitler. The resistance fighters can regen one time by touching their designated medic. The medic must wear a red cross or armband. Neither the medic nor Hitler can regenerate during this game. If the medic gets hit, the attackers can no longer regen for the rest of the game.
